There are only 75 notaries public for this county, but as the State Legislature is in session the number can be easily increased at $2 per head. The notaries public work for nothing, and those who hold the office do so for the convenience it is to their business. Any citizen who has $2 and can get $1,000 bonds, can become an official and have a fine certificate, signed by the Governor. The commissions of 81 notaries expire the present year; 4 end with 1894; 32 will cease to be officials at the end of 1895, and 7 cease to hold office when the year 1896 is concluded.

O. F. McLean is converting the roller link into an ice rink, and expects to open it to the public some time this week. The hardwood floor was first covered with a layer of pulp paper; on that was laid tar paper with edges overlapping several inches, and then the seams well tarred. Water was then put on the floor. One corner settled a few inches, which has delayed the work of making an ice floor. It is many years since there was an ice rink in Alpeina. The first one was erected in 1874, where the Churchill now stands, by Edward Kelley. The second was where the city hall is now located, and was managed by Chas. Golling. A third one was opened in recent years on Third street, but was not a success.

Says the Presque Isle County Advance: The most extensive land deal consummated in Presque Isle county for years, took place in the court house on Tuesday last, when John Millan, on behalf of Alger, Smith & Co., of Black River, bid $28,350 for the lands of the late J. E. Potts company situated in this county, for which amount the lands passed into the hands of Alger, Smith & Co. There were bidders galore, and the bidding was rapid and lively. Circuit Court Commissioner G. Corvey, Jr., conducted the sale. Mr. Millan did not talk on road matters, but judging from recently made by Alger, Smith & Co. in this county, has given foundation for the belief that the extension of the D. B. C. & Alpeina railroad will be pushed north towards the straits in the spring time of 1893.

The tailoring establishment of B. Kramer, on Second street, next to the McDonald block, was discovered to be on fire about half past eleven o'clock Saturday night, by policeman Kowalski, who telephoned for the fire department. The firemen soon had two streams playing on the one story wooden building, and in a few moments all danger to adjacent property was over. The building is a complete ruin, and Mr. Kramer's stock of clothing and his tailoring outfit was totally destroyed. His loss is placed at $5,000. The goods were insured for $3,500, and the building for $700. The building is so far burned that it cannot be rebuilt of wood without violating the fire ordinance. The building is the property of George N. Blackburn.

THE "CARLSBAD OF AMERICA."

A Charming City with Many Attractions.

The Detroit Free Press of the 10th, has the following concerning this favorite city:

"Away up in the northland where the sunshine of summer tempers the winds into a climate like that of Southern Europe and where in winter the dry crisp air never feels cooler than Southern Colorado, stands this charming City of Alpeina. Located as it is at the head of Thunder Bay, it offers a magnificent opportunity for commercial advancement. A finely equipped railroad offers communication with all the great trunk lines of the country. Several lines of steamers connect Alpeina with the many mighty cities of the lake region. Its interests are varied, but the lumber trade is probably the largest industry in the city. Many thousands of millions of the state have made their wealth in this money-making section. There are unlimited supplies of lumber tributary to Alpeina and many fortunes remain yet undeveloped. At the present time this city has about twelve saw mills and wooden ware factories, besides several other industrial manufactures."

"Apart from its enterprises in these lines, Alpeina possesses one of the finest magnetic sulphur springs in the world. Its curative qualities are equal if not superior to the renowned Carlsbad waters, and have secured for Alpeina the title of "the Carlsbad of America." The bath house is one of the finest appointments in the United States. Its interior decorations are very ornate and consist chiefly of quartered oak and natural wood finish. Separate apartments for ladies and gentlemen, with parlors, reading rooms, etc., have been constructed and elaborate and costly furnishings introduced.

"People from all over the country come to this city suffering from rheumatism, paralysis, dyspepsia, nervous debility, skin diseases, etc., and after taking a course of baths return to their homes perfectly cured and built up with strong constitutions. Other baths may have been tried in vain but Alpeina's Magnetic Mineral Spring never fails to accomplish a cure. Mr. Potter is president of the bath company. Mr. Churchill secretary and Mr. Constock treasurer."

"Right opposite the attractively constructed bath house is the Hotel Churchill, one of the finest hostleries in America. People who have traveled all over the country admit in elegance of appointment, richness of cuisine and moderation of charge it has no equal. Messrs. W. L. & H. D. Churchill are its owners, and as these gentlemen are both wealthy, each prides himself on being the typical host who cares more for his guest's comfort than his pocketbook. Among the regular visitors to this popular house can be found some of the leading men of the state. A person who once visits the Churchill will always be a staunch admirer of the hotel."

"Alpeina has many attractive features in modern improvements and cannot fail eventually to be one of the leading cities of Michigan."
